A university is not just a degree awarding institution but also the highest seat of learning where students are given the opportunity to achieve academic excellence along with refinement of character, so that they make meaningful contribution in society. The University of Karachi was established with the same vision in 1951 and since then it has been actively engaged in imparting quality education with a special focus on research in a variety of disciplines. The teachers and research scholars working in the 55 departments and 19 research institutes of the University of Karachi work with students in the joint construction of knowledge and it is this joint construction of knowledge that should be the aim of higher education institutions.

The University of Karachi is proud to have produced hundreds and thousands of graduates in different disciplines in its 68 years' long journey --- a journey we would love to continue for centuries to come. The graduates of the University of Karachi hold important positions in their respective fields both in Pakistan and abroad. Currently, the University of Karachi has around 40,000 students including foreign students from different African, Middle-East and South Asian countries, who are studying in different departments and research institutes of the university. The fact that we have students not only from different regions of Pakistan but also from 13 different countries adds to its diversity and it is this diversity that makes Karachi University stand apart from other universities of Pakistan.

I welcome all the new students, local as well as international, who I believe will excel in their field of interest and make the university proud of their achievements. I assure you that the time you spend on the university campus and the interactions you have both inside and outside the classroom will enrich your experience and inculcate in you the desire for continuous intellectual growth and professional development.

INTRODUCTION

The University of Karachi established in 1951 by the Parliament through the “University of Karachi Act, 1950”, as a Federal University, was redefined later in 1962 as a University in the province of Sindh. Accordingly, with the passage of time it has emerged as a prestigious national institution imparting quality education at the higher level.

The University was initially housed in a congested compound comprising of a few buildings situated at the old Princes Street near Civil Hospital. However, the polluted and congested environment of the area was not conducive to the academic and research activities required for a quality output. Considering the need, the authorities sanctioned a plot located at the Country Club road (now university road) expanded over an area of 1279 acres of land for this purpose.

Today, the University of Karachi holds the status of active academic community, dedicated to achieving excellence at all levels of higher education and research. This premier institution has emerged as a dynamic place, keeping pace with academic advances and changes occurring globally.

A number of scientists and scholars affiliated with the university have secured at important positions both nationally and abroad. They have been acclaimed as active and dedicated members of society striving to bring positive change and development in the mindset of the people of Pakistan.

Considering an increasing number of applicants every year, the University initiated its Evening Programme a few years ago at BS/Hons. and Masters Levels. An independent Directorate of Evening Programme was set up in 1995 to deal with the matters pertaining to studies in the evening, including admissions, academics and administration.

At present, the University of Karachi offers BS 1st Year and BS 3rd Year Programmes as well as M.S., M.Phil. and Doctorate along with diploma and certificate courses in six disciplines, which include, the Faculty of Education, Law, Management & Administrative Sciences, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Science, and Arts & Social Sciences.

Being an affiliating and examining body, Karachi University has granted affiliation to almost 138 colleges and institutes. It conducts examinations of about 1,50,000 students studying in these colleges/ institutes, prepares their results and awards degrees.

Karachi University Degree:

The degree awarded by Karachi University is acknowledged globally and the university ranks among the Top Universities of the World, for the third consecutive year, according to the world's most prominent ranking agency, Times Higher Education and Quacquarelli Symonds (THEQS), UK.

To further strengthen the current standard of education & research, the University of Karachi has also established a Quality Enhancement Cell in its main administration block. The prime objective of this Cell is to introduce self-assessment programmes with a perspective to ensure quality education and research in all disciplines offered at the University.

As per recommendation of Higher Education Commission, University of Karachi introduced a four year BS programme abolishing its BA/BSc. (Honors) programmes.

Admissions are offered in the following degree programmes simultaneously:

- BS / BBA / B.Ed.(Hons.) (four years)
- BS 3rd Year / BSBA (two years)
- B.Ed. (1.5 Year) / B.Ed. (2.5 Year)
- Doctor of Pharmacy (five years)
- One year Diploma
- Six months Certificate Courses

The alumni list of Karachi University include, inter alia, the world renowned personalities and famous scientists like Dr. Abdul Qadeer Khan and Prof. Dr. Atta-ur-Rehman. The University is proud of these eminent figures who are recognized for their services rendered for the promotion of higher learning and research.

Thriving as a research-oriented institution, the University offers courses with futuristic vision in all disciplines. This academic stance makes it easier for students to find a rightful place in the competitive job market at national as well as international level.

Evening Programme:

To cope up with the growing demand of learning opportunities, the University of Karachi initiated its Evening Programme in 1995. The programme was specifically designed for those knowledge seekers willing to continue or advance their education along with their professional lives. Later, its facilities as well as academic and research output attracted other students as well.

The evening programme is based on self-finance and offers BS 1st Year and BS 3rd Year level programmes in various disciplines in the Faculty of Education, Law, Management & Administrative Sciences, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, Science and Arts & Social Science. Initially, the programmes were introduced in a few departments of the University, however, later many other departments joined in by extending their facilities and offering BS 1st Year and BS 3rd Year Programmes.

It is noteworthy that, the graduates of the Evening programme are awarded degrees in the annual convocation. This way the students of the evening programme stand in line with their morning fellows. Both morning and evening programmes follow similar curriculum taught by highly qualified and experienced faculty members.

In departments where laboratory experiments are a part of the offered courses, the evening programme usually commences at 3:30 p.m., while in others, the teaching schedule is decided by the departments' management as per the needs of the courses within the working hours of the Evening Programme. These timings provide an excellent opportunity to in-service individuals who intend to improve their academic qualifications for enhancing learning and career prospects. The admission process begins during the last quarter of the year through newspaper advertisements, while the classes for the first semester commence in January. All programmes have two semesters per year with tuition fee payable in each semester. The classes are suspended during the Holy month of Ramadan.

Who Should Get Enrolled ?

- ❖ All prospective students willing to join the University to accomplish higher education.
- ❖ In-service candidates keen to improve their qualification and skills.

Applied Physics

Introduction

The Department of Applied Physics was established in 1971 with the objective to teach and train students to meet the growing technological needs of the industries of Pakistan in the area of Applied Physics. Over the years emphasis has shifted toward Electronics and semiconductor technology because of the growing demand of technologically-advanced industries in Pakistan. The syllabus has been continually updated to keep abreast with the development in technology.

Our objective is to prepare students to meet challenges of the fast growing technologies in the field of Electronics and Semiconductors. The curriculum provides an in-depth understanding of the subjects such as Analog and Digital Electronics, Industrial Electronics, Semiconductor Devices, Communication systems including Microwave and optical fiber communications.

Microprocessor/Microcontroller and Digital Signal processors (DSP) are hubs of intelligent electronic systems including computers and almost all state-of-the-art equipment used in communications. Industrial and Medical applications also use these devices. A comprehensive scheme of study and application is provided for these subjects.

To teach practical aspect of electronics and give hands-on experience, laboratories have been equipped with the latest equipment. Students are required to spend a considerable amount of time in the laboratories to develop an in-depth understanding of the subject they study in classes. For this purpose, separate laboratory courses are designed. The laboratory training begins with circuits related to basic Analog Electronics, progressively performing experiments on Digital Electronics, Industrial Electronics and finally developing a single board computer based on microcontroller. Students are also trained to able Programmable Logic Controllers (PLC) through the use of software and hardware simulators. Similarly, they are trained in the field of communication using communication training kits.

Facilities

There has been a continuous upgrade of laboratories in the department. In addition to general purpose laboratories where students perform experiments on circuits based on Analog and Digital Electronics, separate laboratories are established for training. These include Computer Laboratory which is equipped with the latest computers connected through LAN. Communication Laboratory has trainers to train students on Microwave and Optical fiber communication systems. Programmable Logic Controller (PLC) is equipped with PLCs from Siemens and Ge-Fanuc.

Students use Software and Hardware simulators to develop and verify programmes. Chemistry

Introduction

The Department of Chemistry is one of the oldest departments of the University of Karachi. When the university was shifted to its present location, the department was housed in one of the few newly constructed buildings and is still housed there.

Chemistry is a noble central science which helps understand the origin of life and suggests ways to use non-living things for giving comfort to life. To train the young generation and to direct their approach to accomplish this task easily, it is necessary to make students understand the principles underlying the composition, structure and properties of substances along with the transformation that they undergo. It is, therefore, obvious that chemical orientation cannot be imparted in isolation and has to be developed through the knowledge of physics and biology on one hand, and engineering and applied sciences, on the other. Having skilled faculty, well-equipped laboratories and other infrastructure the department is imparting quality education.

Facilities

There are several libraries in the University of Karachi, which have books on Chemistry and related technical journals. These include Department of Chemistry's own Seminar Library. Which has a stock of about 10,000 books and research journals on various fields of Chemistry. The Department of Chemistry is equipped with many modern instruments for training students for challenging careers and research. These include, pH/Ion meters, conductometers, polarimeters, refractometers, potentiometers, electrochemical analyzers, HPLC, atomic absorption spectrometers, UV-Visible spectrophotometers, FTIR Spectrometers, Guoy Balance for magnetic susceptibility measurements, flame photometers, computers, deionizers, analytical balances, ovens, furnaces, centrifuges as well as a substantial stock of glassware and chemicals. A modern instrumental laboratory has been furnished to house the new atomic absorption spectrometers, HPLC, GC, GC-MS as well as some other modern instruments. These and other instruments were acquired through a generous grant of Rs.39.95 million provided by the Higher Education Commission. The department has internet facility in every research lab and office through a fiber-optic link.

Specific Research Areas

Analytical, Inorganic, Industrial, Organic, Physical, Environmental, Pharmaceutical, Clinical and Polymer Chemistry.

Career Opportunities

A person with a BS / BS 3rd Year degree in Chemistry has a wide choice of employment opportunities especially in industries and research institutions that are emerging in the Country. These include, Textile Industry, Pharmaceutical Industry, Clinical Laboratories, Oil Refineries, Chemical Industry, Paint Industry, Cement Industry, Beverages & Food Product Industry, Analytical & Instrumental Service agencies and Polymer Industry.

Institute of Environmental Studies

Introduction

The subject of environmental studies is interdisciplinary, in which the relationship of humans with their physical, biological and social environments is studied. The subject provides an integrated approach to the understanding and solution of the environmental issues that range from human community health to global climate change.

The Institute of Environmental Studies was founded in 1982 for developing the human resources to address the environmental issues of the country and is the oldest institute in the field of environmental studies. Women and Gender Studies

Introduction

Since its inspection, the Centre of Excellence for Women's Studies (CEWS) University of Karachi has been engaged in offering teaching and research facilities in a friendly environment to prepare students to act as agents of change. We are the first to offer M.A and M.Phil./Ph.D. degree programmes in Pakistan. Currently the Centre is offering BS, BS 3rd Year (morning & evening), and M.Phil./Ph.D. programmes. Women's Studies, an interdisciplinary subject, aims to make visible women's role and contributions towards building a gender-bias free society for a holistic development of the nation. We offer a variety of courses to address the issues of women and gender, both nationally and internationally. The major focus of our teaching and research is to bridge the gap between the academia and women at the grass-root level. Thus, our students move beyond the campus and interact with women to document their every-day experiences.

Facilities

CEWS has qualified faculty to encourage and assist students in their quest for knowledge. We also invite scholars, academics and activists from various fields to share their scholarship and experiences with our students.

Our library with more than 4000 books, journals, reports on women and gender, is the only library of its kind in the country. We have a collection of press-clippings on almost all aspects of women's lives. Our library is accessed not only by our students but it also caters to the academic search needs of scholars, activists and journalists who wish to avail themselves of this facility. Our library catalogue is accessible through electronic portal.

Specific Research Areas

- Women & Work: Child Labour, Girl Child, Self-Employed Women
- Women Technology & Entrepreneurship
- Women, Religion & Religious Traditions
- Health Concerns of Women & Gender
- Women's History
- Women & Law
- Women & Politics
- Women & Media
- Women Sports & Physical Education
- Social Construct of Gender

Career Opportunities

As Women's Studies prepares students to act as agents of social change, our students are trained to take up jobs that a person qualified in any other discipline can undertake. Majority of CEWS graduates are now hired in various positions by private organizations, government and non-government agencies. Since one of the requirement of our teaching is practicum, our students work as interns with various GOs/NGOs and thus gain practical training and experience. To help our students in their future careers, we remain engaged with the corporate sector.
